

party line

'Terminator 3: Rise of the Machines' (Anheuser-Busch Yacht)

Giving guests and Cannes revelers a chance to mingle in a calm and classy environment before the giant MTV blowout, Columbia TriStar Film Distributors International teamed with Anheuser-Busch to host an exclusive yacht reception and dinner for the anticipated third installment of the action franchise. The night — a nicely orchestrated promotional event — saw Arnold Schwarzenegger in top shape, making the rounds with cigar in hand and giving guests their minute with the man himself.

★ Attendees: Dropping their shoes and replacing them with Anheuser-Busch slippers to swirl around Schwarzenegger were his co-stars Claire Danes with boyfriend/rocker Ben Lee, Nick Stahl, the Terminatrix herself Kristanna Loken, along with helmer Jonathan Mostow, Sony's Jeff Blake, producers and C2 Pictures toppers Mario Kassari and Andy Vajna, Intermedia's Moritz Bormann and Nadia Bronson.

🍴 Cuisine: A truly top spread of lobster tails, oysters, melon and prosciutto lined the second and third floors of the yacht with the beverage bar flowing, topped by bottles of cold Bud.

↪ Highlight/lowlight: Though the civilized event never turned the corner to an all-out bash, it proved to be about as good as it gets for yacht parties: good food, nice conversation, approachable stars and chatty executive types.